

I am writing in concern about XM not being able to broadcast traffic and weather, I listen to XM when ever I am on the road and don't know the regular radio stations or otherwise can't recieve them. I think by limiting the way the station brodcast would be wrong. How would it have been if when FM came into play they did the same thing, what would be everyones reaction then. I am 52 and remember when AM was the only thing we listened to back then.
